

ECU FINE ARTS CENTER CITED AS “OUTSTANDING DESIGN”

East Central University's new Hallie Brown Ford Fine Arts Center has been cited as an “Outstanding Design” by American School & University magazine!

The periodical's 2010 Educational Interiors Showcase, published this month, highlights innovative designs at learning institutions nationwide. ECU's landmark new facility hosts the University's art, music, theatre, speech, and mass communication programs, and serves as a cultural anchor for the City of Ada's fine arts district. To view the publication, please follow this link.

In addition to highlighting the Fine Arts Center, the current issue of American School & University also features commentary from Patrick Bumpas, REES' Education Specialty Leader on the impact of current trends on the academic environment and the future of educational design. Click here to view the article.

To learn more about REES' history of designing outstanding theatrical and fine arts environments for institutions of higher education, please click here.

ARCHITECTURE PLANNING INTERIORS

enter rees.com

